- (b) Money
- (c) Both

Answer: (c) Both

5) Natu consulted the Panchayat to:

- (a) Teach Jumman a lesson
- (b) Punish Jumman
- (c) Help Jumman's aunt

Answer: (c) Help Jumman's aunt

6) Natu wanted the Panchayat to help him because he:

- (a) Loved his sister
- (b) Was scared of his sister
- (c) Wanted to get rid of his sister

Answer: (b) Was scared of his sister

Discuss the following questions in detail:

7) Why do you think the Panchayat believed Natu and not Jumman?

Answer: The Panchayat believed Natu over Jumman because Natu was clever and knew how to manipulate situations. He presented his case in a way that made Jumman appear guilty of mistreating his old aunt. Natu's portrayal of Jumman as an oppressive and unjust person influenced the Panchayat's decision.

8) Do you think Jumman was a good choice for headman? Why/Why not?

Answer: The suitability of Jumman as a headman is subjective. On one hand, Jumman was known for his fairness and justice, as evidenced by his selection as headman. However, his actions in the case of his aunt raise questions about his judgment. If he had thoroughly investigated the matter before taking any action, the situation might have been different. So, while Jumman had qualities that made him a good choice, his handling of the aunt's case brings some doubt to his suitability.

9) What, in your opinion, is the story trying to say about fairness and justice?

Answer: The story underscores the importance of fairness and justice in decision-making. It highlights the consequences of not thoroughly examining a situation before passing judgment. It suggests that a fair and just leader should consider all perspectives and evidence before making decisions. Additionally, the story reflects on the complexity of human relationships and the challenges of maintaining justice within a community.

10) How did Jumman Shaikh initially feel about being chosen as the headman?

Jumman Shaikh initially felt proud and honored to be chosen as the headman. He believed it was a significant position that brought prestige to him.

11) What role did Natu play in creating a conflict between Jumman and his aunt?

Natu instigated the conflict by sowing seeds of doubt and suspicion in Jumman's mind. He convinced Jumman that his aunt was planning to take the case to the Panchayat, creating distrust.

12) What made Jumman realize that he was not a good choice for the headman's position?

Jumman realized his inability to handle the responsibilities of the headman's position when he faced a dilemma involving his aunt. He felt torn between family loyalty and the duties of his role.

13) Why did Jumman's aunt refuse to go back to his house even after the Panchayat's decision?

Jumman's aunt refused to go back because she felt betrayed and humiliated. Despite the Panchayat's decision in her favor, the injustice she faced and the public humiliation were too much for her to forgive.

Long Answer Questions:

14) Explain the consequences of Jumman's decision to throw his aunt out of the house without a fair investigation. How did it impact his reputation?

Jumman's hasty decision to throw his aunt out without a fair investigation led to severe consequences. His reputation suffered as the entire village viewed him as unjust and heartless. The incident tarnished his image, causing remorse later.

15) Do you think Nattu's actions were justified in seeking the Panchayat's help? Provide reasons for your opinion.

Nattu's actions were not entirely justified. While seeking Panchayat's help is reasonable for dispute resolution, Nattu's manipulation and deceit to worsen the conflict were unjust. He exploited the situation for personal gain.

16) Discuss the theme of justice and fairness as portrayed in the story. How does the narrative emphasize the importance of these values in a community?

The story highlights the importance of justice and fairness in a community. It shows that an unjust decision can lead to severe consequences, affecting relationships and the community's harmony. Fairness is crucial for maintaining trust and order.

17) If you were a member of the Panchayat, what alternative steps could you suggest to resolve the conflict between Jumman and his aunt?

As a Panchayat member, I would propose a thorough investigation, involving both parties and any relevant witnesses. Mediation and counseling could also be employed to facilitate communication and understanding.

18) Reflect on situations in your own life or in society where misunderstandings could be avoided through fair judgment. How can individuals contribute to promoting fairness and justice in their communities?

Misunderstandings can be avoided through open communication and a willingness to listen. Individuals can contribute by promoting empathy, encouraging dialogue, and actively participating in community dispute resolution mechanisms.

19) How does the story challenge the notion of blindly trusting appearances? Discuss instances where people's perceptions might be misleading, and a deeper investigation is necessary.

The story challenges the idea of blindly trusting appearances by showcasing that initial impressions can be deceptive. Instances where gossip or rumors lead to misunderstandings emphasize the need for a deeper investigation before forming judgments.
